What this portal is for

One place for the PSC's year: the full calendar of activities, a playbook for every event, and the monthly reporting between the PSC and the Parents Education Committee.

It was built from your own material — the 2025-26 minutes and the PSC shared Drive. The events, the run sheets, the prior-year numbers and the lessons learned are all already in it.

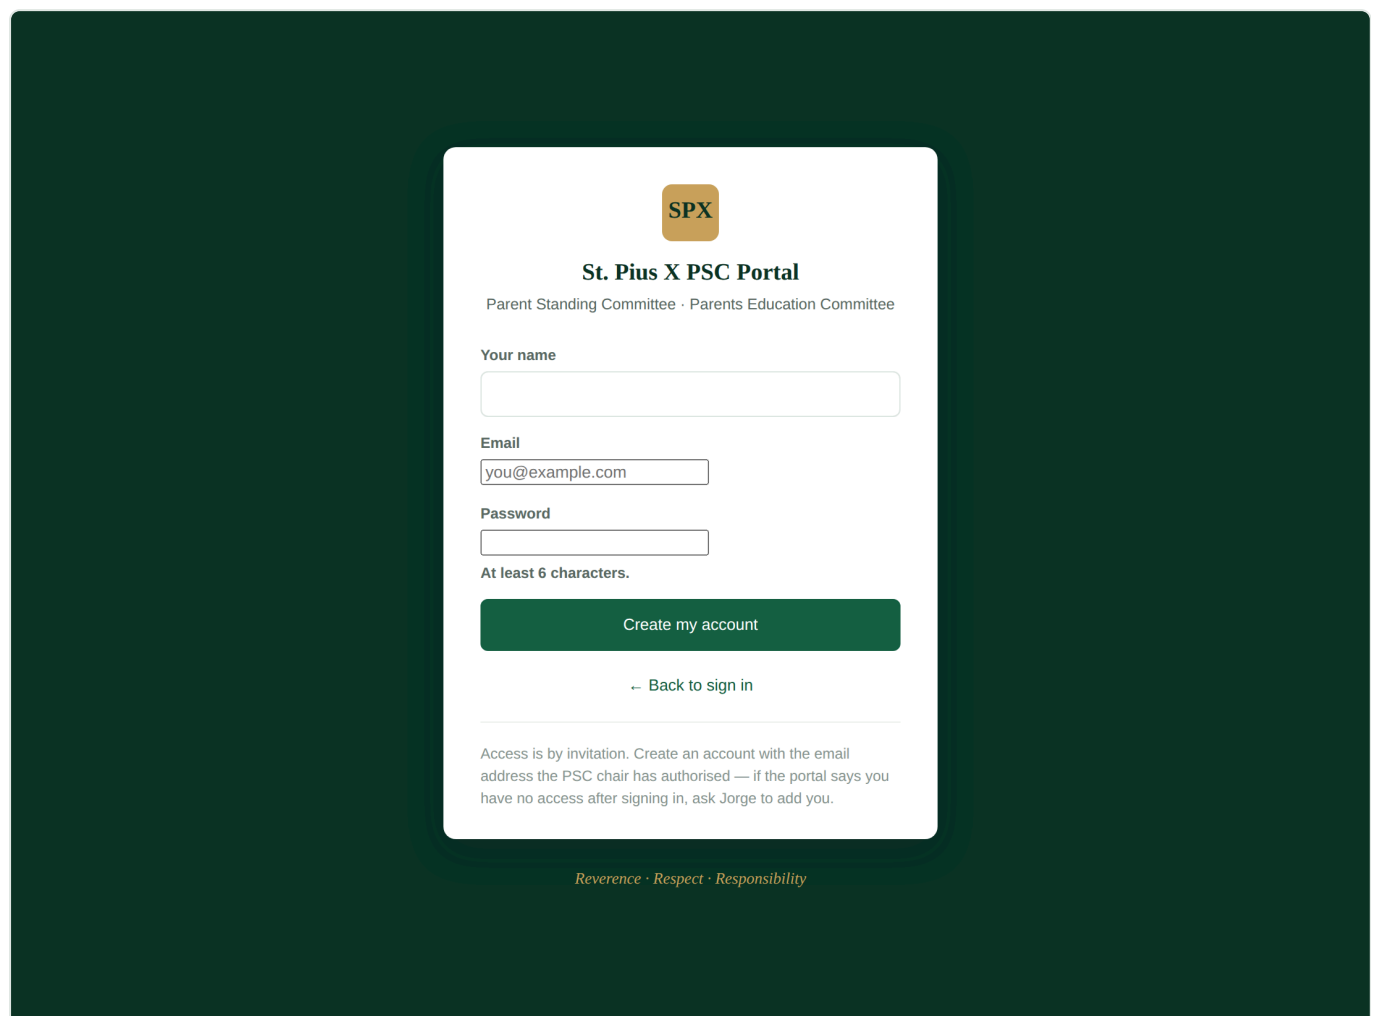

Reverence · Respect · Responsibility

1. Getting in

Open jchinchillav.github.io/St.-Pius-PSC in any browser — a laptop, a tablet or a phone. There is nothing to install. You sign in with your email address and a password you choose yourself.

The first time

- 1 Open the portal link above. You will see the sign-in screen.
- 2 Click “First time here? Create an account”.
- 3 Enter your name, the email address Jorge has authorised — for you that is `lyndadfreeman@gmail.com` — and choose a password of at least 6 characters.
- 4 Check your inbox for a confirmation email and click the link inside it. This is a one-off, just to prove the address is yours.
- 5 Come back to the portal and sign in with that email and password. You are in.

The screenshot shows a web form for creating an account on the St. Pius X PSC Portal. The form is centered on a dark green background. At the top of the form is an orange square logo with the letters 'SPX' in white. Below the logo, the text 'St. Pius X PSC Portal' is displayed in bold, followed by 'Parent Standing Committee · Parents Education Committee' in a smaller font. The form contains three input fields: 'Your name', 'Email' (with the placeholder 'you@example.com'), and 'Password'. Below the password field, it says 'At least 6 characters.' There is a green button labeled 'Create my account' and a link that says '← Back to sign in'. At the bottom of the form, a note states: 'Access is by invitation. Create an account with the email address the PSC chair has authorised — if the portal says you have no access after signing in, ask Jorge to add you.' Below the form, the text 'Reverence · Respect · Responsibility' is written in a small, italicized font.

Creating your account. Use the exact email address that was authorised.

It must be the authorised address. Access is granted per email address. If you sign up with a different one, the portal will tell you that you are not on the list yet and show you nothing — that is the security working, not a fault. Just sign up again with the right address, or ask Jorge to authorise the one you prefer.

Forgotten your password later on? Use “Forgot your password?” on the sign-in screen. You will be emailed a link; opening it brings you back to the portal and asks you to choose a new password there and then. Nobody, including Jorge, can see your password at any point.

What you can do

You have Editor access: you can change anything — dates, owners, budgets, volunteer links and notes. Your changes save immediately and Jorge sees them straight away; there is no “send” or “publish” step. The sidebar shows Shared · saving live when everything is connected properly.

The menu on the left has six screens:

SCREEN	WHAT IT IS FOR
Dashboard	What is coming up and what still needs a decision.
Year Calendar	The whole year. Set dates, owners, budgets and sign-up links. Export for sharing.
Events & Playbooks	Every event, with its run sheet, timeline, past numbers and documents.
PEC Reports	Jorge turns your minutes into the monthly PEC report here.
PEC Meeting Notes	Jorge's notes from the PEC meeting, and the feedback email back to you.
Team & Roles	Who owns what this year, and the PSC meeting schedule.

2. The Dashboard

The first screen answers two questions: what is next, and what is waiting on somebody. The right-hand column lists events with no owner, events that need volunteers but have no sign-up link yet, and dates that are still unconfirmed.

Kindergarten & Families Potluck and Play — Fri 11 Sep 2026

The Dashboard — upcoming events on the left, open decisions on the right.

3. The most important job first: confirming the dates

The calendar was built from last year's minutes. Every date was moved forward to the matching week of this year, so almost every event currently shows Proposed. A proposed date is a starting point for your conversation with Ms. Francis — it is not an agreed date.

Once a date is agreed, mark it Confirmed. Anything still proposed is labelled "(proposed)" in every export, so a provisional date can never accidentally reach parents as if it were final.

To set or confirm a date

- 1 Open Year Calendar.
- 2 Click the event name — either in the month grid or in the list underneath.
- 3 Set the Date. The panel shows you what last year's date was, for reference.
- 4 Change Date status to Confirmed — agreed with the school / parish.
- 5 Press Save.

The screenshot shows the 'Year Calendar' interface for St. Pius X PSC. A modal form for the event 'Used Uniform Sale (Fall)' is open. The form includes the following fields:

- Date: 09/17/2026 (with a calendar icon)
- End date (multi-day events only): mm/dd/yyyy (with a calendar icon)
- Date status: Proposed — rolled forward, not yet agreed (dropdown menu)
- Main responsible: Jennifer Dales
- Support team: Committee members helping out
- Assigned budget (CAD): e.g. 1200
- Volunteer slots needed: 2
- SignUpGenius (or other sign-up) link: https://www.signupgenius.com/...

Additional text in the form includes: 'Last year: Same day as the 2025 Back to School BBQ. The date below was rolled forward from that — confirm it with Ms. Francis, then set it to Confirmed.' and '2025 actual: $1,080 revenue, — costs, $1,080 net.'

Everything you can change about an event: date, owner, budget, volunteer slots and sign-up link.

The same panel is where you set the rest:

- Main responsible — who is leading it. Separate several names with commas.

- Support team — the rest of the committee helping.
- Assigned budget — what the event may spend. Last year's actual revenue, costs and net are shown underneath so you are budgeting from evidence rather than memory.
- Volunteer slots — how many people you need.
- SignUpGenius link — paste it once and it appears on the calendar, in the playbook and in every export.
- Notes for this year — anything the committee should know for this run.

If you change your mind, Reset to original puts that one event back to how it was seeded. It only affects that event.

4. Sharing the calendar

At the top of Year Calendar you choose how much to show, then export it. Three controls shape the output:

CONTROL	OPTIONS
Range	One month · Two months · A term (five months) · The full year
Detail	Summary — dates and event names only, for a bulletin. Standard — adds the owner, the budget and volunteer status. Full — adds last year's revenue, costs, net result and the lessons learned. Best for a committee meeting.
Layout	A month grid, or a plain agenda list.

The four export buttons

- Print / PDF — opens your browser's print dialogue. Choose Save as PDF as the destination. The menus and buttons are removed automatically, so you get a clean document to email or hand out.
- Calendar (.ics) — a calendar file. In Google Calendar go to Settings → Import & export → Import and select it, and every PSC event appears in your own calendar.
- Spreadsheet — a CSV that opens in Excel or Google Sheets, with every field including budgets and sign-up links.

- Text — a plain list, easy to paste straight into an email or the school bulletin.

Tip. For the school bulletin use Range: One month with Detail: Summary. For a PSC meeting use Range: A term with Detail: Full — that gives you last year's numbers next to this year's plan.

5. Event playbooks

This is the part meant to outlast any one volunteer. Open Events & Playbooks and click an event. Depending on the event you will find:

- Prior-year results — the real revenue, costs and net from the finance sheets on the Drive. The Christmas Craft Fair, for example, carries both 2025 and 2024.
- Preparation timeline — the tasks from the PSC Timeline, grouped by month and week, with the owner. Tick them off as you go; the ticks are saved.
- Run sheet — the step-by-step instructions for the day, taken from your own station instruction documents.
- Lessons learned — the debrief points, so last year's mistakes are read before planning starts rather than rediscovered.
- Documents — direct links to the forms, layouts and sheets in the shared Drive.

The Christmas Craft Fair playbook, with prior-year results and the preparation timeline.

Print playbook gives you a PDF of the whole thing — useful to hand to whoever is taking an event on for the first time.

The events list also keeps a record of what the PSC has stopped doing. Set Show: Include discontinued & ideas and you will see the Costume Sale marked discontinued, with the October 2025 reasoning attached, and the Grade 7 book sale kept as an idea. That way a decision is not quietly reversed a few years later.

6. How the PSC ↔ PEC reporting works

This is Jorge's side, but it is worth knowing what happens to the minutes you send, because it explains what comes back to you.

- 1 You send the agenda or the minutes — exactly as you do today, before and after each PSC meeting. Nothing changes for you.
- 2 Jorge pastes it into PEC Reports. The portal reads the document and sorts it into highlights, decisions taken, financials, things needing PEC attention, and what is coming up. Every line is taken from your text — nothing is added or invented — and Jorge edits it before it goes anywhere.
- 3 Jorge takes notes during the PEC meeting in PEC Meeting Notes.
- 4 You get an email with what was raised at the PEC, feedback on your minutes, and what Jorge committed to follow up on.

No email is ever sent automatically. The portal prepares a draft in Jorge's own mail app; he reads it and presses send. Ms. Francis can be copied when you both decide it is useful.

7. Keeping the committee list up to date

Team & Roles is fully editable. Families join and leave every year, so the roster is data you maintain, not a fixed list.

Adding a new parent

- 1 Open Team & Roles and click + Add a member.
- 2 Enter their name and their position on the committee (most people are simply Committee).
- 3 Click Add member.

Being on this list is not the same as having a login. This list is who is on the committee; portal access is granted separately by email address. A new parent can be on the roster and credited on events without ever opening the portal.

When somebody leaves

Open their row with Edit and set the status to Past member. That keeps last year's history readable instead of erasing them — they disappear from the default view, and a filter appears if you ever want to see them again. Remove from roster deletes them outright; the portal warns you first if they still lead any events.

Renaming somebody (a changed surname, a correction) also updates them on every event they are credited on, so the calendar never keeps showing a name that no longer exists.

Assigning events — "Leads this year" and "Supports"

Click Events next to a person's name. You get every event with two tick boxes: Leads and Supports.

The screenshot shows the 'Team & Roles' page in the St. Pius X PSC Portal. A modal titled 'Julie Hogarth — event assignments' is open, displaying a table of events assigned to Julie Hogarth. The table has columns for 'EVENT', 'LEADS', and 'SUPPORTS'. The events listed are: Kindergarten & Families Potluck and Play (led by Ana Luisa Martinez), Lice Check (led by Jennifer Hetherington), Back to School BBQ (led by Lynda Freeman, Stephanie Toves), Used Uniform Sale (Fall) (led by Jennifer Dales), Runathon (led by Lynda Freeman), The Card Project (led by Eileen Wilson), and Christmas Craft Fair (led by Lynda Freeman). The 'LEADS' and 'SUPPORTS' columns have checkboxes, with 'Back to School BBQ', 'Runathon', and 'Christmas Craft Fair' having the 'SUPPORTS' checkbox checked.

Assigning events to a committee member. Each row shows who currently leads it.

Why it works this way. Ticking a box writes to the event, not to a second copy of the information stored against the person. That is deliberate: the calendar, the event playbook and this page all read from the same place, so they can never end up disagreeing about who is running something.

If somebody is credited on an event but missing from the roster, the page tells you at the top so you can add them.

8. Your work is shared automatically

Everything you change is saved to a shared database the moment you press Save. There is no export step and no file to send: when you confirm a date, Jorge sees the confirmed date. When he saves a PEC report, it is there for you too.

You can still take a snapshot for your own records. Open Backup & Data and press Download backup — that gives you one file with every date, owner, budget and note. Worth doing before a big reshuffle of the calendar, and worth keeping a copy in the PSC shared Drive.

If you ever see “Sync problem” in the sidebar, your change is visible on your screen but did not reach the server — usually a dropped connection. Reload the page to see the true state, then make the change again.

9. A note on privacy

Two things protect the committee's information. First, the portal stores names and roles only — no parent email addresses and no phone numbers. Those stay in the PSC Contact List on the shared Drive, where access is already controlled.

Second, the calendar, the budgets and the reports are only visible to people whose email address has been authorised. That check happens in the database itself, not just in the screen you see, so somebody who guessed the link and created an account would still see nothing at all.

10. Giving somebody access

Ms. Francis already has access as an Editor, so she can confirm dates directly rather than asking somebody to do it for her. Bringing anybody else in takes three steps, and there are three levels to choose from.

LEVEL	WHAT THEY CAN DO
Viewer	See everything, change nothing. Good for an event coordinator who just needs the run sheet.
Editor	Change dates, owners, budgets, the roster, reports and notes.
Administrator	All of the above, plus inviting and removing people.

- 1 Open People & Access (administrators only) and enter their email address and level.
- 2 Click Authorise this email.
- 3 Click Copy invitation on their row and send them that message.

Authorising an email does not send anything. It only creates the permission. The person hears nothing until you send them the link yourself — which is what the Copy invitation button is for. It produces the joining instructions ready to paste into an email or a message.

They must sign up with the exact address that was authorised. A different address will get a polite "not on the list yet" screen and will see no data whatsoever.

11. If something looks wrong

Tell Jorge — particularly if a date was rolled forward incorrectly, an owner is wrong, or an event is missing. The seeded content came from the minutes and the Drive, so a gap in either becomes a gap here, and it is easily corrected.

Where to start. Open Year Calendar, work down the autumn events, and confirm the dates you already know. That single pass turns the calendar from a proposal into the committee's plan for the year.
